

What if I told you there was another way to experience life?

It's true that lately, with the global pandemic and everything that comes with a changing routine and that of others, life can suddenly seem a little more difficult and confusing than it once was.

It might also be unsettling for you to watch adults; your parents, teachers and school personnel, family members or friends' family members, acting more stressed than usual.

Perhaps you also feel that some of your freedom has been removed, with restrictions on activities, curfews and lockdowns?

Perhaps you yourself are feeling anxious or worried about everything you hear on TV, the news and everywhere around you regarding the future, disease, the health care system?

Perhaps this makes you feel depressed and your reflex is to escape through your social networks or online gaming to breathe a little?

What if I were to propose an experience that would assist you in feeling better, in discovering all the resources that are already present within you, in your heart, and that are just waiting for you to rediscover them? Would this be something that would interest you?

You see, I'd like to share with you that there's a natural movement of Prosperity that exists within the Universe and on earth. Have you ever noticed how a dandelion can sometimes grow between cracks in the asphalt or even between two rocks? Seasons come and go, with leaves growing on trees in the spring and then blowing away in the fall... All this is the natural cycle of life. Your heart already feels all this, because your heart KNOWS. Yes, even at the age of 13, or 17, your heart KNOWS.

There is a space in your heart that only you can feel, and through this space, you can find peace, but also intuition and awareness that can guide you throughout your life. No one can take this space away from you; not your parents, not your school, not your friends, not even society. It exists in the hearts of all humans, it's just that some have forgotten, and others never knew it existed.

So, what if there was another way to live your life, would you be interested in exploring it?

Would you like to be guided, and have fun, as you reconnect to that space in your heart? Would you like to explore different areas of your life, such as Self, Friends, Family, Inspirations, Creativity, Health, Money, School, Expansion, Rejuvenation, Home and Lifestyle?

Here is what I suggest...

I propose that you join a virtual space where you can express yourself and exchange with other young people such as yourself, worldwide, who are also interested in exploring another way of living and reconnecting to their heart.

I propose the assistance of adults who will be able to listen to you and guide you to return to your heart and to grasp a little more clearly what it is trying to tell you.

I'm proposing a game, which, in fact, has four wheels that you can turn on a weekly basis, and that represent a tool that can assist you in your approach, and guide you by offering you exercises that will allow you to feel much calmer, lighter and that will assist you in opening your heart.

What do you say? This experience is called "A New Beginning for Teens". Interested in exploring with us?

We look forward to welcoming you among us! ☺
